Oral health in our pets

Maintaining good oral health for your pets improves their wellbeing and reduces the risk of the diseases associated with poor oral hygiene. Dental plaque can accumulate on our pets' teeth, leading to problems like painful eating, gingivitis, periodontal disease, and potential tooth loss.

Measures to help prevent dental disease include:

- Having a regular routine of dental hygiene,
- Toothbrushing with a pet-safe toothpaste,
- Monitoring for signs of dental issues (including bad breath),
- Using appropriate chew toys or dental treats,
- Feeding a dental diet,
- Regular dental checkups & tooth cleaning.

Fresheeze dental chews & toys

Dental bones, balls and ropes to freshen dog breath.
